

About Us

Serene HomeShare provides structured shared living environments designed to support stability, clarity, and dignity. Our homes are located in residential neighborhoods and are operated with a focus on consistency, clear expectations, and respect for the surrounding community.

We believe stable housing is strengthened by structure, transparency, and thoughtful household management. Shared living can work well when expectations are clearly defined and consistently maintained.

Why Serene HomeShare Exists

Many individuals experience housing instability not because they lack ability, but because they lack access to housing environments that are predictable, affordable, and well-organized. Serene HomeShare was created to offer a housing model that prioritizes order, cooperation, and long-term sustainability.

Our approach recognizes that stable households benefit residents, neighbors, partners, and property owners alike.

Our Approach to Housing

Serene HomeShare operates shared households with clear household guidelines that support cooperation and accountability. The model emphasizes shared responsibility, mutual respect, and a calm residential environment.

Our homes are designed to feel like real homes—not temporary placements or institutional settings—while maintaining the structure necessary for shared living to succeed.

Residents are placed through referral partners or approved self-pay pathways, ensuring alignment and accountability from the start.

What We Are — and What We Are Not

Serene HomeShare is a housing provider. We are not a shelter, treatment program, or service agency, and we do not provide case management or support services directly.

We work collaboratively with referral partners and property owners to ensure housing arrangements are appropriate, transparent, and aligned with shared expectations.

Looking Ahead

Serene HomeShare is committed to developing shared living environments that balance stability, dignity, and practical structure. Through thoughtful partnerships and responsible household management, we aim to contribute to stronger homes and healthier residential communities.
